DOG DAYS OF SUMMER!

Summer, summer, Summertime! It’s one of our favorites here at the shelter. Especially that COVID is much more under control. We are back to planning fundraising events – both indoor and outdoor. We have definitely needed any and all fundraising projects that we can take on. We have had an onslaught of owner surrenders, and unclaimed strays that we are trying to make room for. That gets costly for vaccinating and deworming, spay/neutering, microchipping, and any other testing that goes into our normal process. That does not include the medications and vet visits for animals with diseases such as coccidia, giardia, Lyme disease, and on and on. And none of these things count in the housing (paying for insurance, water, and electric, etc) – all things people tend not to realize. And we are still finding ways to make up for the loss of our thrift store which provided around $75k in generations a year.

Our animals also love summer time. Sun and warm breezes do us all good! We set up pools, clean up our catios, and provide as much free air enrichment as we can to keep all of our animals happy. Don’t have a pet but would like to take one for a walk? Come visit and take a walk around our 85 acres, or even take them to one of the rail trails in the area. Don’t forget to swing thru a drive-thru and get a vanilla pupcup for them.

We hope everyone has a happy & healthy summer. Remember that most animals go missing for two reasons this time of year. One – they are in heat, so make sure to get an appointment to spay/neuter and prevent their neighborhood walk about. Two – fear of fireworks. Best to keep your pets inside and safe so they don’t get spooked and run off. Running off is scary for us because they are missing. But for our pets it is terrorizing because they have to dodge traffic, worry about unsafe humans, and sometimes they lose track and just can’t find their way back. So also make sure those collars and tags are up to date with your current phone number.

Lyme disease is becoming increasingly more common in both humans and dogs. It is contracted when bitten by an infected tick (most often deer ticks). Ticks are being transferred as we walk through wooded and grassy areas, backyards and parks, and absolutely where we see deer. Lyme disease often takes months before symptoms are shown, which is why it harbors such risk. And it's why preventatives like Lyme vaccine is so important, as well as tick preventative such as Simparica, Nexgard, Seresto collar, etc. Talk to your vet about the best options for your pet.

What are the symptoms? Lameness due to inflamed joints, Fever, sensitivity to touch, loss of appetite, generalized depression, breathing issues. If your dog exhibits any of the symptoms listed above, schedule an appointment with your veterinarian. Lyme disease, if left untreated, can lead to kidney failure and even death in severe cases. An untreated Lyme disease infection can have serious cardiac and neurological consequences.

Dogs & Cats—yes Cats! - both can benefit from Basic Obedience. It builds confidence in them, trust with you, and works their brain like school does for children!!

Sit

Difficulty: ★★☆☆☆

STEPS

- Stand in front of your dog with a treat.
- Hold the treat near your dog's nose.
- Lift the treat up and say, "sit."
- Gently push their backside down until they're sitting.
- Reward your dog and repeat.

Lie Down

Difficulty: ★★☆☆☆

STEPS

- Hold a treat and let them smell it.
- Tell your dog to sit.
- Move your hand down to the floor.
- As your dog follows, say "lie down."
- Reward your dog when they lie down, then repeat.

Come

Difficulty: ★★☆☆☆

STEPS

- Tell your dog to sit and stay.
- Walk a short distance away.
- Say "come" and hold out a treat.
- Reward your dog when they come to you.
- Repeat until no treat is needed.

Cognitive dysfunction syndrome affects approximately 28% of 11- to 12-year-old dogs and 68% of dogs aged 15 to 16. It affects 36% of cats aged 11 to 21. Fifty percent of cats aged 15 and older show behavior changes consistent with CDS.

If you suspect your dog or cat might have CDS — or are concerned about any behavioral changes, no matter how slight — a visit to your veterinarian is essential. You'll be asked which behaviors you've noticed, so it's a good idea to make a list to take with you. Some medical conditions or medication reactions can mimic cognitive dysfunction, so your vet will want to rule those out. For example, dogs with chronic pain, anxiety or who are sight- or hearing-impaired may exhibit signs of CDS but not otherwise fit the criteria. Kidney disease, diabetes, osteoarthritis and hyperthyroidism should all be investigated before a diagnosis of feline CDS is made. As with most ailments, early detection and treatment will lead to better outcomes.

AVAILABLE PET PHOTOS

We have a limited amount of space for animals. So keep on adopting and helping us save more lives. For every pet you adopt, you save a life, because we can pull a new one into our facility. If you can't adopt: then volunteer, donate, and educate! Together we can, and are, making a difference!

Lucy made her way to Animal Control after her owner had to go into assisted living. The adult son could not take Lucy, so she was left homeless. We know she was so loved with her previous momma. She is so clean and brushed, very well fed. She is more of a quiet one. She likes attention but also just likes to hangout with you. She is a very sweet girl. Who couldn't love Lucy!
 She is a 3 year old black and white cat (tuxedo).

She has been spayed, updated on vaccines, dewormed and FIV/FELV negative. $90 to adopt!

IF ANYTHING HAPPENED TO YOU, what would happen to me?

500,000 pets are surrendered to U.S. animal shelters yearly because the pets outlived their humans.

Step 1 IDENTIFY CAREGIVERS

who would be willing to care for your pets in the hours, days, or weeks after an emergency as well as those who would be willing to adopt your pets should you die or become incapacitated.

Step 2

PREPARE WRITTEN INSTRUCTIONS

outlining how your pets should be cared for. How do you want your pets to live in another household or in a sanctuary? What kind of special care do your pets require?

You currently pay for food, supplies and medical care for your pets. These expenses will not stop if you are not here to pay for them. Consider setting aside funds to cover temporary or permanent care of your pets.

Step 3 SET UP A FUND

Cooper was a fan favorite here back in 2019/2020. This loveable goofball is now a loveable adult who had to be returned to us in the worst circumstance. His owner passed away to cancer, and between his separation anxiety and not liking the child in the new family household, it was best for him to come back. We cannot blame him for having the SA due to being with his previous momma pretty much every minute of the day. He was so very loved in his home with Karen.

So he needs a new home where the owner will be there with him most of the time, and then crate him when leaving for his protection and to protect your belongings. He is a ladies man for sure. Please be educated on the American Bulldog Breed. He does have spurts of energy and likes to play, but is also a great couch potato. And we always believe obedience training is a plus because it helps to build a bond and structure with the animal.

He is just under 4 years old. He is up to date on vaccines, dewormer, neutered and microchipped. His adoption fee is sponsored.

In Memory of Karen Willett-Hamilton
